

Cruising from Galveston

Flying in

George Bush International Airport.

Located about 75 minutes north of the port this will be the most common airport you fly into when cruising out of Galveston. It has many hotels and restaurants to choose from within a 15 minute radius. Transportation to the port is available ranging from taxis and uber to the cruise shuttles. There is also the available rental cars on site.

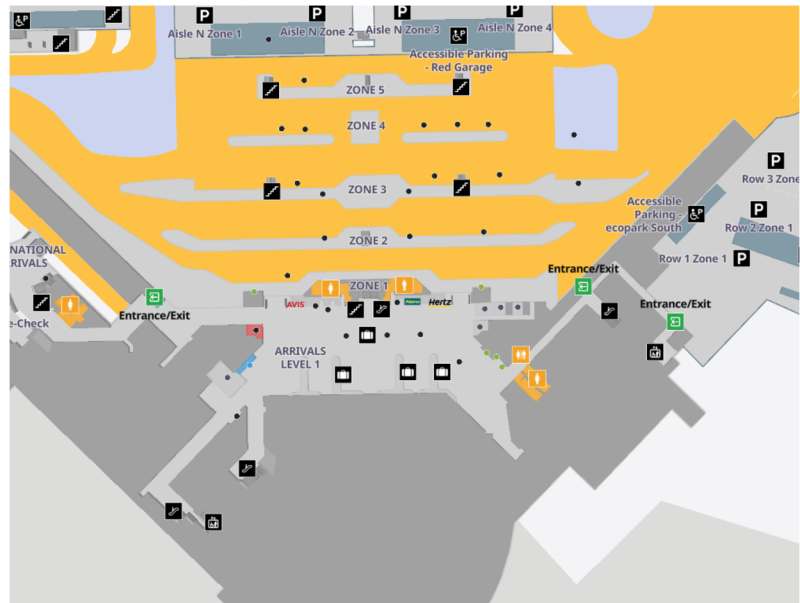

Find Your Ride.

To find your ride at George Bush International Airport, look for signs for "Ground Transportation." Taxis are located outside Baggage Claim in all terminals. Rideshare pickups are outside Baggage Claim in Terminals A and C, and near Door 102-S in Terminal B. Cruise shuttle and charter bus pickups are on the south side of Terminals A and C. Follow the signs and ask airport staff if you need help.

William P Hobby Airport

Located about 50 minutes north of the port this will be the airport you likely fly in if you are flying Southwest Airlines, Allegiant, or Frontier.

There are a good amount of hotels and restaurants in the area. Transportation to the port is available ranging from taxis and uber to the cruise shuttles. There is also the available rental cars on site.

Find Your Ride.

With a fairly small and simple layout navigating Hobby Airport will be a breeze. You will follow the signs to Ground Transportation from the baggage claim area. Once outside you will see multiple curb zones. Directly to the left will be Rental Car Shuttles to take you to pick up a rental car. Zone two will be for taxis. Zone three you will find Hotel/Motel shuttles. Zone Four will have your Cruise and Charter Busses as well as Limos. Zone Five is where you will find rideshare companies (uber, lyft, etc.).
