

Cruising from Tampa

Flying in

The primary airport you would be flying into will be Tampa International Airport. It is roughly 20 minutes away from the cruise terminals and in close proximity to many hotels and restaurants. Alternatively you may fly into St. Pete Clearwater International Airport which is about 30 minutes away from the terminals. You would really only use St. Pete if you are flying Allegiant.

Find Your Ride

Once you reach baggage claim area you will either be in the red (north) or blue (south) baggage claim depending on your airline. To find ground transportation go through the exit nearest Baggage Belt #9 (Red) or Baggage Belt #7 (Blue)

Taxis will be available in the ground transportation area for a flat fee of $35 to take you to the port or Downtown areas. Other locations incur different costs.

Rideshare vehicles can be picked up at either the Red side Baggage Claim or Blue Express Curbside. For rental vehicles you will navigate to SkyConnect. This train will take you to the rental vehicle area. There are signs posted throughout baggage claim and the route to the train. Just follow them!
